SUMMARY

Under Article 1 of the Special Town Meeting in November 1979, the Town voted unanimously to amend the Town Charter by increasing the membership of the Council on Aging from five to nine persons.

The law requires that the vote now be placed on the ballot. If the majority of the votes cast is in the affirmative, the Charter will be amended. If the majority of the votes cast is in the negative, the Charter will remain unchanged and the membership of the Council on Aging will not be increased.

The required number of signatures were certified on the three petitions, following which the five candidates were notified by mail that a recount would be held on Wednesday, May 21, 1980 at the Junior High School. The registrars, assisted by eight election officers — Lois Johnson, Carol Reddish, Louise Kenney, Ellen Miniole, Stella Eastland, Carolyn Bergen, Walter Harris and Fred Fiola — conducted the recount, with officer John Nash on duty.

Following the recount of the 2,607 ballots cast at the Annual Town Election, the following results were announced:
